Relational

As a Father

- that he would enjoy time and common interests with his children
- that he is able to show his love in ways they connect with
- that he finds the right balance in discipline

As a Husband

- that he would never stop learning about his wife
- that he would listen and communicate well
- that he would show appreciation

As a Friend

- that he would have strong friendships with other men he clicks with
- opportunities to spend time with those friends
- that they would be good influences and build him up

Mental

- that he would be confident in himself
- that he would be aware of his strengths and weaknesses and what steps to take to better himself
- that he would be able to resist temptation

Spiritual

- that he would be aware of how he is loved and gifted
- that he would have a desire to serve God
- freedom from anything that is holding him back

Financial

- that he would tithe and put God's kingdom ahead of his own
- that he would involve God in every step of financial decisions
- that what he is involved in will be successful

Professional

- that he would have integrity and a good work ethic that others notice
- that he would have opportunities for advancement and growth
- that he would work for God and find success

Physical

- for any injuries / illnesses / aches and pains that you know of
- that past problems would not reoccur
- that he'd care about his health and make wise choices
